Harlan J. Berk, Ltd. has presented an innovation in antiquities and numismatics for some time now. The system is simple. When you want an antiquity or coin in the sale, just bid the estimated price by phone or mail. We will send you the antiquity or coin immediately. No waiting for the closing of the sale. Any and all antiquities or coins not sold before the closing date will be sent to the highest bidder on January 22, 1992.

EXAMPLE—You bid estimate on an item valued at $100.00 and if your bid is the 1st to reach us, you will receive the item immediately. If on the other hand, you bid $75.00 on the same item and are still the high bidder at the end of the sale, the item will be mailed to you on the closing date, January 22, 1992.

If you are ever in the area, stop in and see us! Of course, it's best to call first.

Maximilian I (1493-1519)
350. (1511-1518) Showguldiner commemorating Maximilian's wedding to Maria of Burgundy in 1479. Hall mint. Considered one of the masterpieces of medallic art and depicts what was then considered the most beautiful couple of Europe. Unlike most of the earliest thalers that were retouched at the mint to improve the quality of the imperfect strike, this one was left in its original state and thus proves that it was intended for circulation rather than presentation. Vohlhuber 3, Mos-Tur p83, Bachtell 2. Like all thalers of that period it has typical areas of weakness, but really is nice XF with dark even patina, weight 30.25g . . . . .	12,000

CHRISTMAS, HANUKKAH AND BUSINESS

SEASONAL FIXED PRICE SPECIALS

583. SUMERIAN SHELL RING MONEY; Over the last several years in the Near East, there have been occasional finds of ancient rings, circular sections cut from cone-shaped sea shells, polished, and used by the cultures of the time as a form of money.

The artifacts found at these sites date to 3500-3000 BC, the time of the Sumerian settlements and early cities in Mesopotamia. The shell rings were found in Syria and undoubtedly are from shells brought inland from the Mediterranean coast.

Contemporary with Ur, Kish, Larsa, and other Sumerian cities in the south, there were large villages and cities in the north and west of the Fertile Crescent. The Syrian cities of Ebla, Alalakh and Ugarit were economically and culturally advanced and were part of the trade routes that ran overland to Assyria and along the Euphrates to MarI and further south to Sumer.

International commerce in western Asia of the 4th Millennium did not use the medium of money. (Gold and silver coinage came into being in the late 7th Century BC). Instead, there was an exchange of different commodities, value being determined by negotiation between merchants. For local transactions of smaller worth and for the needs of daily life, however, the Syrians used the shell rings, usually carrying them on a necklace string. Thus, these shell rings are a very early true currency.

584. SUMERIAN BEAD NECKLACE; The Sumerians flourished in southern Babylonia from the beginning of the fourth to the end of the third Millennium BC. During this time the Sumerians were the dominant culture of the entire Near East.

The Sumerians developed and probably invented the cuneiform system of writing which was adopted by nearly all the peoples of the Near East. Their written language allowed the Sumerians to produce a vast body of literature including apics and poems. The religious and spiritual concepts developed by the Sumerians were a profound influence on all the peoples of the Near East.

Among their many achievements, was their craftsmanship in the production of jewelry. The Sumerian people adorned themselves with jewelry of all kinds. They used a variety of materials for necklaces including semi-precious stones. The beads were carefully formed by hand carving, or were cast in molds.

The beads on this necklace are from the Sumerian culture and are dated from 2,200-1,800 BC.

The orange beads are carnelian, a mineral, and were carved by hand. The dark blue beads are lapis lazuli, and the black and white are carved from a mineral, and the bone colored beads are carved from bone.

The turquoise beads are faience, a glazed pottery produced by fusing ground quartz or soapstone. The black, gray, white and brown beads are made from fired clay.

These beads have been carefully arranged and restrung with a modern clasp so that they are wearable, and the beads are all guaranteed to be from this ancient culture.
